A secret desire to go to China haunts everyone. China never ceases to be popular ever. At least once, in your life, you need to make a tour to China, but with each new trip, you will see a lot.

China is a country where people go to get acquainted with history and traditions, evidence of ancient times, medieval antiquity and brilliant modernity. Monumental Beijing is a symbol of fidelity to the centuries-old traditions of the Celestial Empire, the beginning of almost every tour to China, although it is the capital of China for no more than 200 years, is best personified by the 20th century China known to us. Not far from Beijing, one of the wonders of the world is located - the Great Wall of China - the largest defensive structure in the world, attracting thousands of tourists every year from around the world.

Shanghai is not only the most romantic city in China, but also a symbol of the country's industrial growth, the personification of modern China, its technical development and a promising future.

Holidays at sea, white beaches with fine sand, diving and active sports - this is the Chinese "end of the world" - Hainan Island - one of the most environmentally friendly islands in the world, which has three magnificent bays - Sanya, Dadonghai and Yalunvan.

Today, Hainan is called Chinese Hawaii, for its amazing sea, dazzling white sand, tropical vegetation, underwater beauty and excellent climate, a developed network of upscale hotels, an abundance of entertainment including active sports - diving, kiting, windsurfing, golf courses, spa rejuvenation centers and weight control, qigong gymnastics courses. By the way, Hainan Island is located on the same latitude as Hawaii!

Lovers of antiquity will not be able to do without visiting one of the ancient capitals of China - the city of Xi'an, famous for the tomb of the great emperor Qin Shihuang and his terracotta army. One of the most attractive cities for business people in China is Guangzhou, because every year the Export Goods Fair is held here - the largest international event in Asia, attracting hundreds of thousands of specialists from more than 200 countries and regions!

If you want to visit the most beautiful gardens in the world - you need to visit the "Eastern Venice" - the city of Suzhou: picturesque landscapes, mesmerizing with its beauty of the lake and gardens! The city of Hangzhou is the birthplace of silk and is known worldwide as a manufacturer of magnificent silk fabrics and products. Beautiful landscapes, historical monuments attract millions of foreign tourists here annually.

One of the best resorts in Northern China is the city of Dalian - the former stronghold of the Russian Empire in the Far East - the legendary Port Arthur, known not only for fortifications and military history, but also for its beautiful beaches and unique parks. In addition, on the coast of almost a thousand kilometers, there are many sanatoriums offering the treatment of various diseases according to traditional Chinese methods. So the treatment in China is primarily Dalian.

One of the richest places in the historical plan of China is the city of Luoyang. 50 kilometers from it is the Shaolin Monastery - another cult place for those who are attracted to oriental martial arts. Guilin's fabulous landscapes are enchanted by the misty dahl of karst hills surrounded by unhurried rivers, the foggy mountain ledges of the Yellow Mountains of Huangshan in Anhui Province and the ethereal landscape of the Stone Forest in the vicinity of Kunming make a striking impression on anyone. No less striking is the look of night Hong Kong - a world of endless possibilities for relaxation and unforgettable entertainment; this "fairy-tale city, dream city" of all Southeast Asia deserves a separate discussion.

The climate in different parts of the country, stretching along three climatic zones, varies greatly: from temperate continental with hot summers and harsh winters in the west and north to subtropical in the central regions of the country and tropical monsoon on the south coast and islands. In many central and southern areas in summer, very high humidity.

The best time to travel to China is late spring (April and May), as well as autumn from September to October, (in the south - from November to December). But on the island of Hainan it is quite possible to travel all year round. The average annual temperature there is +28 ° C, sea water - +25.6 ° C.
