All questions about money are very difficult and controversial particularly at this time of pandemic. The question about money and successes is especially important and interesting. I want to share my opinion with you.

First of all, if a person earns a lot of money it means he or she has unique knowledge and experience and people want to pay for these. For example, a good lawyer is often paid a very high salary, because he or she has won many cases and people are ready to pay big money for his knowledge.

A second example is that a salary of a surgeon simply depends on his experience and knowledge and on how many surgeries he has completed successfully. In this case surgeon's salary simply depends on surgeon's success. Secondly, a high salary is an indicator of a prosperous career and profession. People change their jobs, move from one place to another looking for a more interesting and better-paid job. Of course, some people do not care about salary as long as they like their job, but from my everyday experience and observation, I can state that the majority of people who are not satisfied with their revenue would exchange their current job for another one with a higher salary.

Success, in common parlance, is the accomplishment of goal or purpose and it always differs from person to person's perspectives. Some people want to be a good doctor, some good educationist, some famous politician and so on. They strive for their goal bit by bit and want to write a new story of success. Besides, people view success from their own point of view. That is to say that success is defined by each person in his own angle.

In conclusion, I want to say that money is essential part of our lives, but happiness is the most important thing.
