

image not found or type unknown

It is undeniable that English plays a huge role in the life of a person who is striving for the successful development of his career. The most widely spread language on the planet is English, spoken by five countries: Great Britain, USA, Canada, New Zealand and Australia.

Everyone knows that to get a good profession you need to know English. For example, a guide, a wonderful, creative profession, is in great demand in the world. Many tourist groups of people from different English-speaking countries come to Russia and are involved in the culture of Russia and often use the service of a guide. Outside of our country, Russians who visit English-speaking countries also need a guide. Russian people often visit distant corners of the planet, learning about culture, everyday life and many other interesting things with the help of a guide.

What is more this profession is for sociable, inquisitive people who want to communicate with interesting people from other countries. For the profession of a guide, excellent knowledge of English broad outlook, good speech, ability of the organizer, love of art, ability to interest customers, good friendly relations with different people are required.

Thus, English is a very popular language in our time, as different programs on the computer are made in this language, various instructions are written for technology, furniture and many other things. Every well-educated person should be able to speak English, it is the language of communication, business, culture and science. English lessons at my school are very interesting because I can learn a lot of words that will help me in my future profession. Let's learn English together!