Films are art. They play an important role in our life. For many people, watching movies is the best way to pass their time.

The history of cinema dates back to the 1890s, thanks to the Lumiere brothers. Then movie cameras were invented and film production companies began to form. After the Lumières invented cinematography, cinema became world heritage. In our time, there are dozens of different genres of cinema.

I'm crazy about the genre of fantasy, mysticism and science fiction. I have always been attracted by the inexplicable, mysterious and magical.

As a huge fan of the Harry Potter universe, I was looking forward to the release of Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them. The film is about an outlaw organization of magicians that has existed for many years. The main character is an awkward and awkward magician with an unusual menagerie - Newt Scamander.

He unsuccessfully loses his pets and meets the Auror Tina, Queenie and Muggle Jacob Kowalski, who just wanted to open his own bakery, but was involved in the world of magic. Their paths are intertwined with the activities of Grindelwald. The story is set in 1920s New York and conveys the special atmosphere of that time.

The relationship between Jacob and Queenie develops very nicely and touchingly. The fantastic beasts turned out to be very funny, although they look more like aliens than magical creatures. But the author's fantasy turned out to be very rich. All these intrigues from the past, investigations, wand duels and frightening magical creatures are very exciting.

Movies are a lot of fun. This is a good way to relax and have fun while immersing yourself in a new world or an interesting story. It's hard to imagine your life without cinema
