

image not found or type unknown

Heroes, in my opinion, are firefighters, it is one of the major, dangerous and difficult professions. We lead every day predictable ordinary life. We go to work, we do house chores, we seldom come up against risky situations. Work of the firefighter or rescuer is a risk every day, every day can become the last for him. The firefighter can be called for work in various extreme situations, such as road incidents, industrial accidents, floods, earthquakes, civil disorders, leak of dangerous chemicals and materials, aviation and sea incidents. Firefighters do not know sensation of fear, are not afraid of pain and are not afraid of death. They do not know fatigue. I know that the firefighter surely has to be brave hardy and resolute, have the excellent physical and mental shape and also have theoretical knowledge and practical skills of fight against fire, it is the whole science spread of fire on the building. Every day these people can not come back home to the family as they saved lives of others. And often they correct errors of other people because of which the fire began.

Happens, in the fires there are children, pets. From a fright and smoke they hide and do not answer firefighters. For such cases there are fire dogs. They are specially trained, they live together with firefighters. Also happens, as award them too. Many firefighters after commission of the feat perish. The most difficult is a readiness to risk the life for the sake of others. These people real heroes.

For the help in fire fighting the service of rescue uses helicopters. One such helicopter works at the Ostafyevo airport near my home. Rescuers use the helicopter not only for fire suppression, but also for rescue operations. Every day the helicopter makes flights over my house, like a bus. Every time I think of what strong and brave people are engaged in rescue of human lives. If the helicopter in air, someone's life at this moment means it can be saved.