To be honest, I don't know if I can write about "how to make the world a better place." In fact, the world is huge, and my perspective is too small to think about the whole world. It may sound like I'm writing about sleep, but still I have an idea of the world as a better place. So, I would like to write about this.

For me, the best world is a world in complete peace. No wars. No miserable events like terror or genocide. I grew up and lived in peaceful places like Japan and America. However, I know that, unfortunately, wars are being waged on this planet, and many people are crying over these tragedies at this moment.

What is heaven and what is hell? I remember the story I read in the book. There were two hungry people at the table. There was a platter in the middle of the table. Two were tied to chairs (they could only move their arms) and were holding long, long chopsticks. These chopsticks were too long to reach their mouth, but long enough to reach another's mouth. In heaven, two helped each other and fed each other. So they were happy together and enjoyed the meal. In hell, these two didn't really care about each other. Each tried not only to feed himself, but also competed with each other in who can get more. Of course, they couldn't put food in their mouth with these long, long chopsticks, and they made a lot of confusion as well. They hated each other!

What was different in this heaven and hell? As I understand it, the only difference was whether people cared about each other or not. In other words, in heaven, two people thought of themselves as one and found a better solution. The two helped each other and fed each other. In hell, these two thought not only of themselves, but also hated each other and were also greedy. This shows that the world can change if we change our way of thinking.

In conclusion, the world today is not a peaceful place, but I believe that if we change our way of thinking, we can make it much better than it is now. The main thing is to take care of others. We can enjoy the peace in the world and the beauty of this world. This does not require a lot of money. We just need warm hearts and will to find the best solution for all of us. Then we will see that the world is a better place for all of us.
