My neighborhood is changing every year. In addition, every change can be good or bad. For example, building more roads. It is better way to get an easier way to get my office, but now there is less oxygen in the air.

There was a market near my block of house. Now there is nothing but clean streets. There are many good supermarkets around this place, but goods become more expensive.

There is a repairing of old houses during last couple of years. This repairing is not always successful, but the district is more beautiful. Some years ago, there were a couple of schools, but now there is only one school. There was an old supermarket 'Moloko' in my house of blocks. During last years, the name was changed four times. Now it is a 'Magnolia'.

There are two park zones near my house. I know that nobody will build more, but I hope, that my neighborhood will be more 'green' after some times.

A new sport Olympic school was built, and I think that the change of my neighborhood will have a good way of developing.
