I live in a country called Kazakhstan and we have three state languages. and each language has its own history, connection with other languages and there is its own uniqueness that makes this language individual. and the name of these three languages is Kazakh Russian and English.

Each of the three languages has its own specific goals. for example, the Kazakh language is mainly used by Kazakhs to communicate with each other, but now the modern world and therefore other nations also speak this language well. and the Russian language is already used for communication by other nations, these are mainly the countries of the former USSR, as well as it is a popular language in modern and youth cities of our country.

As for the English language, I can say that this language is used to communicate with the countries of Europe and America, since they have this language as the main language for communicating with foreigners and this language is also used to communicate with foreign investors for political affairs. well, not everyone can immediately master these three languages, since there are villages in our country, and there they basically know only two languages and therefore people from our country do not always manage to do this.

But it's good that we live in a modern world where everything is there and now centers are open everywhere where they can teach people of different languages and absolutely everyone can go there, even from the village, villages go there to learn these languages as they need it for future professions. In general, if you try hard, you can learn these three languages in a year and these languages are not so difficult compared to Chinese or Arabic.
