

image not found or type unknown

I would like to tell you the news, about the world- renowned Gambian musician who builds an academy for children to study their own culture without leaving Africa. I have taken this news from CNN rubric Architecture. I feel that this is really amazing that if you want to succeed, you must work hard and have patience, this proestrus by example of the Gambia's female professional kora player from Africa. I hope you have really liked it!

I would like to tell you the news, about Ancient Greeks ramps. I have taken this news from CNN rubric Architecture. I feel that this is really amazing that ramps were used in 4th century BC and they were likely built with disabled access in mind. It is already known that many visitors to healing sanctuaries could not walk as that they had osteoarthritis. I hope you have really liked it!

I would like to tell you the news, about that designer reimagines planes and ships as giant planters in plea to 'slow down' energy use. I have taken this news from CNN rubric design. I feel that this is really amazing that during the Covid-19 pandemic, French designer Nicolas Abdelkader has proposed a bold new use for the vehicles turning them into giant planters. I hope you have really liked it!

I would like to tell you the news about an Italian village that has been under water since 1994 and can rise to the surface. I took this news from the CNN rubric architecture. I feel that this is really amazing that the Italian village of Fabbrice Di Caregine comes to the surface because of the emptying of the dam it happened 4 times. Reliable sources report that next year, in 2021, Lake Wagli will be completely devastated. I hope you have really liked it!

Новости 5

I would like to tell you the news that Creative Brand Pharrell Williams has developed a coronavirus cutlery set. I took this news from the CNN rubric design.

I feel that this is really amazing that Otherware has developed a personal cutlery set. The set was equipped with a knife, fork, spoon, straw and chopsticks, made in part from recycled CDs, to both reduce single-use plastic and provide visitors with safer eating options outside the home.

I hope you have really liked it!