In September 2019, my friends and I drove to St. Petersburg by car, we stayed there for a week. We stayed in a friend's apartment in the very center of St. Petersburg on Bolshaya Konyushennaya Street. We left the car in the parking lot as soon as we arrived and the rest of the time we moved around the city on foot. it helped us enjoy the beauty of the city and its amazing architecture. We laughed a lot, went to karaoke and delicious coffee houses. Each evening we ended with delicious homemade cakes, right next to the house, a tea kettle and an old movie.

It was a very sweet journey for real girls.

we listened to real songs for girls, had a lot of fun and just had a good time.
