

image not found or type unknown

Jimmy Langton-not the most talented actor, who loved the theater and loved acting. But his appearance did not allow him, although it was for the best, because in total with his manner of acting, the characters turned out to be funny. He was a fat, bald, red-cheeked man of 45 years. He had an excellent ear and could not stand it when actors were out of tune. Being an entrepreneur in the theatre of Midlepool, he conducted rehearsals with actors. Jimmy got the best out of the actors, he yelled at them, he laughed at them, he didn't pay them enough. At the same time, the troupe scolded him and did everything to please him. Jimmy was eccentric, arrogant, vain, and irresistible. He wasn't a gentleman.

Sometimes Jimmy traveled in search of actors. That's how he met Julia. He offered her not a lot money, but with it the prospect of growth and more roles. He promised to teach her everything, because he noticed her talent. Jimmy really admired her performance and believed that she would be the greatest actress. He disapproved her feelings for Michael and said that he didn't deserve her. Jimmy has always supported Julia.

At first glance, it may seem that Jimmy Langton was a scoundrel, an ill-mannered, rude lout. But I thought he was a good enough man. Yes, he was demanding , Yes, he could speak sharply or even slap a woman in the face, but at the same time he had a sober mind, he was an excellent leader and was one of the best in his business.