

image not found or type unknown

London has many beautiful attractions that are of great importance to the culture and art of not only great Britain, but also the whole world. Most of them are related to history. These are monuments, squares, and stately buildings.

Big Ben is one of the attractions of London, which is considered a symbol of this city.

The Big Ben is the most popular landmark of Great Britain. The official name of this building is Elizabeth Tower but we know it as Big Ben. It was built in 1859 and only after 2012 people started calling it 'Big Ben'. There are many places in London where you can buy a small souvenir in the shape of this place of interest.

London Eye is a beautiful landmark in London. It is situated on the bank of the river Thames. It can carry 800 people in each rotation. London Eye can be also used for weddings! Many couples organize wedding ceremonies in this landmark.

Tower Bridge

Central London, which is often confused with the London bridge. It opened in 1894. This bridge is a symbol of the capital. It has a gallery that overlooks the city. Its length is 244 meters