Some people live in big fashionable houses, others can afford only small flats – it is a matter of budget. Another matter is what our homes can tell about our lives and us. You may own a mansion or you may rent a room in a big apartment with strangers. Anyway, you have your space, where you can create your little cozy corner.

Now I am going to tell you about the place where I live. I live with my Mom in Volokolamsk. It is a beautiful Russian city. We live a one-room flat. Our flat is rather spacious. There is a hall, a living room, a kitchen, a bathroom and a lavatory in it. The bathroom and the lavatory are just usual: a bathtub, a sink, a mirror and a lavatory pan. There is a huge wardrobe with all our clothes in the hall, we usually dress up there.

Living room is a space for having rest – with a sofa and a computer desk. Our kitchen is “a few rooms in one”: we cook, eat and study there. There is a cupboard, a kitchen table, a gas stove, an oven, a sink and a dining table with four chairs there. So we also use the dining table for reading and writing. It is rather convenient. My Mom often uses the computer for her work and then I study in the kitchen.

In conclusion, I would like to say that there isn't really enough space for the two of us in this flat. But we tried to divide the space effectively and use it to the full. I like my home; it is always a pleasure to come back there.
