Nearly everyone needs some time for relaxing and doing what he or she likes. Hobbies or leisure time activities are perfect for that.

Unfortunately, I don't have much free time during the week, because I study and work. But when it appears, I try to make it as useful as possible. I'm fond of drawing and reading. My mother told me that I've been drawing almost all my life. And this is true, because for as long as I can remember, I've always drawn. Until recently, I drew only in the so-called "traditional" style. But I got an iPad and an Apple pencil for my birthday. Now I can draw in the "digital" style. I also love to read, and I even have a library at home. I have absolutely different books: from fantasy to psychology.

Other than that, when I have free time, I invite my friends over. We can watch movies or TV shows, play board games or have a pizza together. I'm always happy to have them around.

I also try to spend more time with my family. We go to cinemas and restaurants, parks and museums, and often go out into nature. Recently, because of the pandemic, of course, we have become less likely to go anywhere. But this doesn't prevent us from gathering in the evenings in front of the TV and watching movies in online cinemas. We can order some delicious food home and enjoy our "home cinemas" experience.

My leisure time also somehow depends on the time of year. For example, in the summer, I like to visit the city's museums, galleries, and parks. In the summer we go to the sea or to the country. In winter, I prefer to skate or sled with my younger sisters. From time to time, my mother, her friends and I go to the theaters. This is another of my favorite forms of leisure.

All in all, I'd like to say that people should have leisure time. Otherwise life would be boring.
