When I start to think about my future profession, I imagine that I work in a big company with people and do very important things. I imagine that I am an economist. I like to work with numbers, with the computer; I like to communicate with different people.

Just few months ago, I realized I can be an economist. My choice was not easy, because there are many different professions. I wanted to be a teacher or a doctor. But later on, I have decided that the best thing for me is to become an economist.

This profession looks so interesting and important to me. I am very good in mathematics. I can say numbers is my passion. I like to solve the problems, check algorithms and work with numbers. It is not easy but it makes mathematics more interesting.

In future, I have to study at university. There math's will be more complicated. All 5 years I will study hard to become the best economist.

Today all the companies need professional people. Lawyers, programmers, managers and of course economists play a very important role in developing of any company. If I succeed to become a part of this company, I will be proud of myself all my life. I think it is important to find your vocation in the life. Nowadays it is very difficult to make the right choice for a teenager. I am sure we are able to change our decisions but it is important to choose with the heart.

Today economists work a lot and they have good money. Of course, you need to have good experience and knowledge. You have to love and enjoy your job. I see I will be a very successful and professional economist. I speak with my relatives who have this job and they are very happy about their choice.

I am sure one day my family will be proud of me because I have made my choice already and I do my best to get high results.
