Currently the pandemic of coronavirus. We stay at home with our families nowadays. We play games, watch TV, eat, seat and speak together. We all hope to be healthful and we trust that our houses protect us from the terrible disease.

But what`s going on out of doors? There are heroes within! The natural heroes work at the shops and pharmacy, also bus and taxi-drivers and many others. The most important heroes are doctors with their headquarter in the hospital. They work long and difficult hours from early morning till late at evening without any break. The doctors have to cope with a difficult job full of stress and liability. If we didn`t have doctors some people wouldn`t be alive today or they would very sick.

- Doctors help a person to be born (obstetricians, gynecologist and others).
- Doctors observe a health of children and adults, cure them at home and in the hospital (pediatricians, therapist and many others).
- If someone was injured or some accident occurred as a traffic accident or something horrible then the special doctor survey the sufferers and prescribe a medication, make an X-ray, put the cast on the broken bone, sew up a wound (resuscitator, surgeon, traumatologist)

They have a colorful costumes, such as a superheroes, white color or rarely other and also they often wear a mask, gloves and cap. All doctors possess a strong moral code called The Hippocratic oath. They contribute their times when they study and practice for many years in a row because this job requires a lot of skill and knowledge more than other profession. They have no margin for error.

Doctors not only operate people and prescribe medicine, but sometimes they risk their health and life, donate their blood when it`s necessary. The doctors are on duty around the clock. They brave and fearless the blood and smell of pus and other disease. It`s necessary and noble profession that`s why we have to treat the doctors according to their merits.
