

image not found or type unknown

I want to become a banker because I believe it is one of the most promising and useful jobs for the society. A banker is an owner of Bank capital or an employee involved in the banking business. The latter include managers, consultants, accountants and other employees. These specialists work with money and commercial papers. They are collaborating with government organizations and private funds as well as provide legal and financial services. Bankers do a very important job. It requires great concentration and good intellectual abilities. In addition, the banker must be able to communicate with people, because customer service is also his responsibility. I am well aware of all the difficulties I will have to face in choosing a profession as a banker, but this does not force me to abandon the planned path. This work is well paid, which largely compensates for its complexity. In addition, it seems to me very interesting, contributing to self-development and the acquisition of valuable knowledge that can be useful not only in the professional sphere, but also in everyday life.