I live in the North-Eastern district of Moscow, in the Lianozovo district. This is a very green area. There are many places to walk, and the air is cleaner than in the city center. Near the house there is a children's Playground and a sports ground. Beautiful flower beds will bloom here in the spring. My area is very convenient to live in. There are many cafes and shops here, medical facilities are being built, cultural and entertainment centers are opening, where you can relax and spend your free time.

My district is no different from many other districts in Moscow, but for me it is the most favorite. I don't want to move any time soon.

The district administration takes care of elderly residents and families with young children. Schools and kindergartens are opening, they have swimming pools and sports fields nearby. This allows children to grow up healthy and spend their free time usefully.

Not far from the metro station is the estate Lianozovo. The estate is located on the lake shore. On its territory there are playgrounds, cafes and sports ground. Sports events are held here in winter, there is an ice rink and you can go skiing. Lianozovsky Park of culture and recreation is a favorite place of recreation for residents of the district. There is an amusement Park for children and adults, a movie theater is open and an open-air summer movie theater. There is also a Museum of Slavic culture named after Konstantin Vasiliev. The Museum presents interesting household items and culture of the ancient Slavs. There are clubs and sports classes for children. There is also a skate Park in Lianozovsky Park, which is very popular with teenagers, and rope adventure Park «Panda Park».

Recently our area has been very transformed. The pedestrian street Lianozovsky Arbat is laid, landscaped ponds in the Park, opened a beautiful pedestrian bridge. There is a fountain that dances to classical music in the evening. One of the attractions of the district is the preserved oak grove. This is a favorite vacation spot for local residents.

My neighborhood has changed for the better recently. I want it to always remain green, well-groomed and beautiful. And for this purpose it is necessary, to ensure that every resident is clean and orderly. In Moscow, a website has been created where every resident can write, what he wants to improve his neighborhood. A lot of people who are not indifferent contribute their ideas for the development of the district, and the Council and the head of the district implement them as far as possible. I am ready to participate in all events, which are organized in my area.
