I did not think about my profession and work in the future. Stage of the profession. I was going to work at the airport. But certainly not an engineer or cleaner. I like to work there because of the atmosphere, everyone works, communicate and every day. And also I wanted to become a pilot, I also thought about it. But I have a fear of heights and because of this I changed my mind about becoming one, another reason was that at the moment there are a lot of accidents with the plane because of which the planes are falling, and this is not uncommon at the moment.

What is the advantage of this work that you will visit so many countries is a huge plus in this profession. And also a big salary, of course, not immediately, but from time to time the salary rises first you start with the second pilot, but eventually you will become the first pilot. This is all I can say about my work of the future, or rather dreams of future work.
