We, who regularly visit the global network, know that Internet is not only a huge library of knowledge. We also know that the Internet is a world of opportunity. Now it is difficult to imagine a family that does not use a computer and the Internet. On the contrary, every year interest to virtual space grows.

Now there is an influx of new users which with pleasure to use world network for their intellectual development. People from different social groups, especially the younger generation, are enthusiastically studying the information published on the network.

Statistics show that the younger generation spends most of its time on the Internet, because it helps in training, communication and finding new friends. Finding a solution to any question is not difficult if you make some efforts and use the Internet to search.

In the labyrinths of the world information database, you can find the answer to almost any interesting question. The global network is used by a large part of the adult population and a significant number of children and teens. To date, according to statistics, about 3.5 billion people periodically visit the Internet, which is almost half of the world's population. The growth of network users is also observed among the population of Russia.

Undoubtedly, the Internet is a world of possibilities for the personal creativity of any person. However, it is necessary to take into account the fact that the indiscriminate receipt of information may result in both positive and negative consequences. The huge amount of information presented on the pages of sites contains not only useful and positive, but also negative information.

Therefore, it should be some caution in the virtual space. It is necessary to effectively use your opportunities to obtain useful knowledge, trying not to focus your attention on empty, unnecessary information. In a word, do not have a lot of fun in the network, you need to pursue your main goal and invest your valuable time in useful knowledge.

The Internet is a world of job opportunities and, of course, income generation. As the experience of many people shows, creating a personal website can bring a stable income and not only. Having created a personal Internet resource, you will be able to embody what you want in it.

The Internet is a world of opportunities for remote control of many processes in everyday life, ranging from communication, create a unique resource to purchasing various product services. Everyone, at their discretion, can get the maximum benefit from the World Wide Web.

The Internet and computerization are one of the most important things that are happening in the world right now. They develop the modern world, making the world's population cleverer and more educated. Behind it stands the future development of humanity to better technologies and devices. As we know from the previous essay, progress is the main aspect of the development of civilization. Without the Internet and computerization, modern civilization will not develop, but will only stand on the one place and degrade. That is why the Internet is the path of development and progress of the 21st century.
