

image not found or type unknown

Many human problems are connected with the daytime. Thirst for money is one of the most serious sins of mankind. Many people are blinded by money, see nothing but them.

It all starts when a person will earn a lot of money in a successful business, he will soon have to make a choice. First, he can spend this money. Secondly, he can give them to charity. Finally, he can simply put money in the bank and increase his income. He decides to spend it on something good or on something bad.

Many people agree that the desire to have a lot of money is very dangerous. First, it leads to love for others, selfishness, greed and a mean way of life. When money runs out, it seems as if the end of the world has come. Secondly, it is a huge economic gap between the rich and the poor. Every year, millions of people live in luxury.

There is a terrible injustice. Many professions are now underestimated and, therefore, low paid. Why does a soccer player get more than a doctor?

However, money itself is not the root of injustice. The modern world without people. Money is only important as a means of subsistence. Every day we buy food, clothes, medicines, pay for school and much more. Therefore, people need to know how to spend and save money properly. Money will only have a positive impact on people. In addition, they help us to be confident and strong. Cash to charity. So you can help other people.

Many wealthy people are not greedy. For example, Hollywood actress Angelina Jolie supports the poor, especially children from third world countries. She is also the UN Goodwill Ambassador.

We believe that money itself is not the root of evil. This is the love of money, and the human vices that come with it. As shown above, if you had five million dollars? I would try to help everyone. Center for medical care for children, where he could provide medical care. But this is my choice. Everyone decides that he can afford a day to take over the top.