Each person is on the threshold of the choice of a course of life. Depends on this choice whether the person will be happy. What profession to choose? What to be engaged in?

Many of us choose the most popular and prestigious professions. One of such, in my opinion, is the lawyer's profession.

In my opinion, a main objective of the lawyer - saving the law and law and order.

Will be in the world of the specialties, so responsible, dear and honourable not so much, and at the same time so difficult as the lawyer.

Perfect implementation of laws, and, therefore, existence and legal functioning of the state depends on employees of the legal industry.

Each lawyer has to be ready correctly and react in due time to inquiries of society, own techniques and working methods with the changing legislation, the extensive documentation published by literature.

The lawyer has to not only help people legal councils, but also know exits from certain situations and the developed circumstances.

Law – one of those sciences which is comprehended throughout all life. As the legislation changes constantly and supplemented, the lawyer has to be able to find and remember quickly nuances of precepts of law to be able to operate with the gained knowledge. The main thing — to have to it true calling and to be ready to long and persistent work.

I chose the course of life! My way is a law.

My future profession inspires me. Every day in educational institution for me, as if a holiday. Daily I fill up the knowledge in this sphere: I study laws, charters, I argue, I think - it is so healthy and fine!

Proceeding from the aforesaid, I for myself drew a conclusion that lawyers are such people who chose for themselves a thorny road not for the sake of money, not for the sake of situation, and for the sake of those people whose lives they are designed to protect. These words are not exaggeration, in our state, as well as in many others, the person is threatened by criminal elements. And here therefore the lawyer undertakes a duty to protect such people in spite of the fact that people who demand protection are the different social status. And there are people who have no appliances, and they cannot pay service of the lawyer. Assiduity, aggressiveness, ability to convince – here those qualities which also help to become the good lawyer.

I never am a student of a third year any more, and, the profession chosen by me did not disappoint me, and, on the contrary, every day it is interesting to me more and more. Further I plan not to be satisfied with what has already been achieved, and to come to a higher educational institution. And, of course, to work in the favourite sphere, to be an example, to protect the rights and freedom of citizens.

Each of us - not just the citizen of the state, but also the maker of history. Making intelligent actions, being engaged in everyday work, we become participants of important historical events.
