In general, I'm not sure yet what I would like to do in life and therefore I'm especially interested to write this work and understand better for myself.

I like working with people, but not always. I like working with people, but I would not like teamwork as it is difficult for me to work like this. I think I could be responsible for some particular task on my own. As a child I liked the work of a doctor, but then I realized it wasn't mine. Wachi are very confident and strong people. They are also very smart and neat and it is not about me at all. I really like creative specialties, I think I could find myself there. I would like to implement my ideas and show them to people. I would like to tell stories with my works.

I would like to combine creativity and love for music in my work. I think the most important thing is that I don't have a routine. I like new tasks and different projects. I think it would be very interesting for me. I also think I like the types of work that allow me to travel a lot, explore new places and just look at the world. I would like to be an ecologist or archaeologist, but I am afraid it is too difficult a task for me.

The works in the hotel are also very interesting for me! After all, every day something new happens, you are not always confident in the future and you constantly see completely new people from all over the world. I think it will be very trivial if I say that I like the work of historians, I think it's madly interesting. To study what was thousands of years before our life.

I think it is still a difficult question for me, but I hope that I will soon find out the answer to it. I think finding a dream job is difficult, especially at my age. Many people even older than me still do not know their dream job. I hope something from this list will work out and I will be really happy.
