

image not found or type unknown

The tragedies “Hamlet, prince of Denmark” was written by the greatest and the best interpreter of human Shakespeare - the most famous poet of all times. His works are quite a lot. It's comedies, tragic-comedies, historical plays, romantic dramas, tragedies, poems, sonnets. One of his more popular work is the tragedy “Hamlet, Prince of Denmark”.

This tragedy is very interesting and has a deep meaning. The main character of this tragedy is Hamlet. Hamlet- is the prince of Denmark, son of “King of Denmark”. He loved his father and mother, very much. Therefore, the death of his father and the shock of her mother's behavior, after the death of his father, affected him very much. His mother, the queen of Denmark married the King's evil brother. Hamlet was in madness fortune very long time. No one could help him. From this state, he even stopped loving his lady “Ophelia”. He suspected, that his father was murdered by his uncle, cause to married with queen and to get the thrown. Everyone thought , that the King died of a snake sting. His brother told everyone so. But, Hamlet didn't believe.

One day, the soldiers told him, that they saw a ghost in the garden. Hamlet decided to see him and began to wait him, in the garden. When he saw him, he was shocked, because it was the ghost of his father. The ghost told him the whole truth about his murder, that his brother cruel murdered him, when he slept in the garden. He crept up and poured the poison into his ears. The spirit beg Hamlet, to took revenge of his uncle, but without harming the mother. Hamlet promised to do it.

After this moment, Hamlet began to quarrel with the King. Prince checked authenticity of this information, and when was sure, told all things to mother and asked part with King. She promised do it. Finally, Hamlet killed the King and avenged. But, on the way to revenge he harmed his beloved. Killing Ophelia's father, he was the cause of Ophelia's death. Also, his mother was killed, and he also died, but with a calm soul.