I want to talk about going to Boldino with my class.

In the 7th grade we had a teacher in Russian language and literature. She loved the poetry and work of Alexander Sergeyevich Pushkin. We wanted to go to our homeland and to the house-museum where Pushkin was born and see how he lived. Our teacher endorsed our idea and persuaded the principal to go with other classes.

The A. S. Pushkin Museum-Reserve "Boldino" is a large Russian literary museum located in the complex of buildings of the Pushkin family estate in the village of Bolshoi Boldino, Nizhny Novgorod Region, with which one of the most fruitful periods of the poet's work, "Boldinsky Autumn" (September-November 1830).

The main attraction of the village is the state literary and memorial and nature museum-reserve of A. S. Pushkin "Boldino." The museum, dedicated to the Boldin period of the poet's life and work, is located in the former Pushkin manor house, on the territory of the manor park with an area of 8.5 hectares.

The picturesque park is the center of the village and is located around a cascade of ponds starting at the Assumption Church and ending in the lower part of the park near the chapel of Michael the Archangel. The museum-reserve is one of the largest Pushkin museums in Russia and includes thirteen architectural objects [10]. The museum also includes Luchinnik Grove, located a few kilometers southeast of the village and the building of a manor house in the village of Lvovka, eight kilometers from Bolshoi Boldin.

On the territory of the reserve are: Lord's House, Patrimony Office, Manor Yard and Park, Popov Order.

My classmates and I were able to visit the main house of the Lord. In the building of the manor house, the situation of the 1830s was recreated. During the first visits, Pushkin occupied 3 rooms in the front room in the house: the entrance hall, the hall and the office.

At the entrance of the house we were told to put on large slippers so as not to get dirty half. We saw old furniture and beautiful exhibits.

Then the teacher took us to the park for a photo session in historical costumes. We were printed photos in memory. We were able to walk around the beautiful courtyard and look at nature. I really enjoyed going to the museum.

You must visit the Boldino Museum, a reserve, and more than once. Pushkin Boldino is a place with a special ecology and special energy. To see and appreciate all Boldin sights one day is not enough. If you have the opportunity, come for a few days - you will not regret it.
