

image not found or type unknown

Fear can prevent people from pursuing their dreams.

What is one of the greatest enemies for everyone? Someone might say that is death or bad health. The other might say that's loneliness. In fact, they are right. However, in my opinion, people's own fear is one of the greatest enemies, especially for pursuing their dreams because of some reasons.

The first and main reason why I said that is fears paralyze people's ability to think clearly and to be focused on their dreams. Instead, people start thinking about the fear or the situations which connected with their fears. As a result, people stop following their dreams a period of time or it might cause something worse. People start thinking that their dreams are unbelievable or unreal for them. So they leave their dreams at all. Secondly, fears can easily paralyze people's feelings. For example, somebody may lose their love, passion, peace, self-confidence and other positive qualities because of the fear. In fact, these qualities or the other parts of personality are responsible for setting and pursuing dreams. People prefer doing what their souls or innate voices appeal. All of these above mean that fears are one of the greatest enemies that can prevent individuals from achieving their dreams. Let's look at the ancient history. During the war time, the countries which were involved into the conflict tried to horrify their opponent using different methods. That had been done in order to make the opponent more vulnerable. As a result, armies that had been captured by the fear lost their control and lost the battle. Thus, fear was very powerful weapon.

In conclusion, fears definitely can prevent people from pursuing their goals. People lose their ambitions, positive parts of their personality and control on the current situation. I strongly recommend not thinking about scary occasions and trying to defeat every kind of fears. As a result, people without fears would be very ambitious and reliable and persuasive with their dreams and goals!