There are a lot of legends about magic power of charms. These legends are beautiful and instructive. And if you really believe that amulets and talismans bring good luck, I can propose that they can really help. I have my own lucky charm and take it everywhere as all the members of my family after one situation occurred to us few years ago.

In 2015, my parents decided to go on holiday to the seaside in Krasnodar Krai. We went to Sochi and took my cousin Diana and her four-year-old son Sasha with us. We spent a lovely week there going to crowded beaches and swimming in a warm ocean. One day friends of my parents rung us and said that they arrived in Adler and offered us to come there. My parents accepted the invitation with great pleasure.

In Adler there was a pleasant surprise. We were getting to the hotel when we heard the female voice: 'How beautiful your family is. I've never seen so nice people,' she said. We turned around. Good-looking woman was staying next to us smiling to Sasha. 'I have a lucky charm for each of you. It will protect you everywhere,' that woman told us and gave us small bracelets. That lady was so kind, calm and confident, so we accepted the gifts and thanked her.

Next day we met our friends and went to the theme park. There were lots of entertainments. We tried all of them. The last station was the lottery shop. By that time, we were tired and wanted to pass it by, but my mum decided to waste her money and try her luck. She bought the lottery and seller checked it immediately. We couldn't believe our eyes. We won 100 000 rubles! Of course, everyone remembered that beautiful woman and her bracelets which were on our arms.

Since then, nothing bad had happened with us. Thank you, amazing Fairy!
