

image not found or type unknown

In every team there is a person who, like no one else, knows how to take responsibility, to enthrall his friends and colleagues and organize them for a good cause to lead.

This is what a leaders should be. To be a leader is partly talent, to be a leader is a big responsibility. Many scholars believe that a leader is an interesting, energetic, charismatic, respected and confident person.

I think that a leader should have the following qualities: Decent behavior, Wisdom, Good Look, Talent, Determination and Charm. A leader is always a bright charismatic personality, he becomes an example to follow.

Eleven qualities of a born leaders..

- 1.Emotional intelligence.
- 2.High level of motivation.
- 3.Selt-confidence and optimism
- 4.Professionalism and responsibility.
- 5.Works authority
- 6.Personal Effectiveness
- 7.Negotiation skills
- 8.Charisma and ability to build communication
- 9.Vision
- 10.Support
- 11.Sociability.

Summing up my essay, I want to say that all people want to be successful and independent.

Every, person can be a leaders, the main thing is to be able to find an approach to yourself and developed new qualities....

A wonderful English saying speaks about it

“Today you read and tomorrow you leader.”